

Theism in the Light of Present Science and Philosophy

James Iverach

Download now

Click here if your download doesn't start automatically

Theism in the Light of Present Science and Philosophy

James Iverach

Theism in the Light of Present Science and Philosophy James Iverach

The Committee of the University of New York chose a professor of the Aberdeen Free Church College as the first lecturer under the Charles F. Deems trust, which provides that the lectures shall treat of some one of the most important questions of Science and Philosophy, with special reference to its relation to the revealed truths of the Holy Scriptures and to the fundamental principles of Theistic Philosophy. The present volume is the result of Professor Iverach's acceptance of the post as thus defined. From a survey of some of the great branches of natural science the lecturer is able, in his opening chapter, to say on good grounds that the power at work in the world is an intelligent power, and that natural science, while it has given wonderful glimpses of knowledge to the men of the past century, leaves vast and numerous questions to be answered by philosophy and religion. The inorganic world is next regarded as a preparation for life, and the physical characteristics of life, its genesis, growth, and meaning and its rational implications are examined. When the lecturer proceeds to discuss the making of man, and the relation of the individual to the rest of the human family, he asks whether a rational religion is possible, and in the course of his reply makes some acute criticisms on the writings of Mr. Kidd and Mr. Balfour. Professor Iverach thinks that 'the method common to both is even worse than the results to which they come,' and he regards the habit of setting part against part, and of straining the relation in which two or more elements in a larger unity stand to one another, until nothing but a relation of contradiction is left, as fatal to all fruitful thinking (p. 194). A chapter on the character and meaning of personality leads on to a consideration of the nature, history, and demands of religion. 'The personality in ourselves is so far given as to enable us to see what a perfect personality is' (p. 226), and 'we seek a God who can speak to us and to whom we can speak, a God who is something for Himself, as well as something for us, who can be the home of our life, and meet every aspiration, desire, and longing of the whole man' (p. 259). When this position has been reached the lecturer can fearlessly look out from a firm shore upon the troubled sea of philosophy in its agnostic aspect, and finally concludes with a chapter on idealistic philosophy. 'In the surrender of a man to Christ, and in the giving of Himself by Christ to man, we find a fact of religious experience in which an ideal is reached, and the man who surrenders himself to Christ finds himself in Christ' (p. 325). The reader of these lectures will be encouraged to take a hopeful view of the future. Philosophically, Professor Iverach says, we have to retrace our steps somewhat, and try to make the metaphysic of Kant agree with his ethic. Theologically we have to make our abstract doctrines 'a fuller representation of the reality of the concrete personal, religious life of the individual, and of individuals constituted into a society of redeemed men. . . . Every increase of knowledge is available for the service of theology, and theology is giving itself to the mighty task of using it. For theology is in the central position, and has the widest command of the requisite resources; it can alone adequately deal with the postulates and the fullness of the religious life; and if unity is to be attained, it must be attained through theology' (pp. 325-6).

—The Church Quarterly Review, Volume 51 [1901]

 Download Theism in the Light of Present Science and Philoso ...pdf

 Read Online Theism in the Light of Present Science and Philo ...pdf

Download and Read Free Online Theism in the Light of Present Science and Philosophy James Iverach

From reader reviews:

John Moore:

The book Theism in the Light of Present Science and Philosophy make you feel enjoy for your spare time. You can use to make your capable a lot more increase. Book can to become your best friend when you getting pressure or having big problem with the subject. If you can make looking at a book Theism in the Light of Present Science and Philosophy to be your habit, you can get far more advantages, like add your current capable, increase your knowledge about some or all subjects. You can know everything if you like open up and read a book Theism in the Light of Present Science and Philosophy. Kinds of book are a lot of. It means that, science reserve or encyclopedia or others. So , how do you think about this e-book?

Frank Craver:

The experience that you get from Theism in the Light of Present Science and Philosophy is the more deep you rooting the information that hide inside the words the more you get thinking about reading it. It doesn't mean that this book is hard to recognise but Theism in the Light of Present Science and Philosophy giving you buzz feeling of reading. The article writer conveys their point in certain way that can be understood through anyone who read the idea because the author of this guide is well-known enough. This book also makes your current vocabulary increase well. Therefore it is easy to understand then can go with you, both in printed or e-book style are available. We propose you for having this kind of Theism in the Light of Present Science and Philosophy instantly.

William Boehme:

This Theism in the Light of Present Science and Philosophy tend to be reliable for you who want to be considered a successful person, why. The explanation of this Theism in the Light of Present Science and Philosophy can be among the great books you must have is usually giving you more than just simple studying food but feed anyone with information that probably will shock your prior knowledge. This book is handy, you can bring it everywhere and whenever your conditions in e-book and printed people. Beside that this Theism in the Light of Present Science and Philosophy giving you an enormous of experience for example rich vocabulary, giving you trial run of critical thinking that we understand it useful in your day task. So , let's have it and revel in reading.

Alexander Ratcliff:

Don't be worry in case you are afraid that this book will filled the space in your house, you can have it in e-book approach, more simple and reachable. This particular Theism in the Light of Present Science and Philosophy can give you a lot of friends because by you taking a look at this one book you have point that they don't and make a person more like an interesting person. This specific book can be one of a step for you to get success. This reserve offer you information that might be your friend doesn't recognize, by knowing more than additional make you to be great persons. So , why hesitate? We should have Theism in the Light of Present Science and Philosophy.

Download and Read Online Theism in the Light of Present Science and Philosophy James Iverach #FQ01ASR76LM

Read Theism in the Light of Present Science and Philosophy by James Iverach for online ebook

Theism in the Light of Present Science and Philosophy by James Iverach Free PDF d0wnl0ad, audio books, books to read, good books to read, cheap books, good books, online books, books online, book reviews epub, read books online, books to read online, online library, greatbooks to read, PDF best books to read, top books to read Theism in the Light of Present Science and Philosophy by James Iverach books to read online.

Online Theism in the Light of Present Science and Philosophy by James Iverach ebook PDF download

Theism in the Light of Present Science and Philosophy by James Iverach Doc

Theism in the Light of Present Science and Philosophy by James Iverach Mobipocket

Theism in the Light of Present Science and Philosophy by James Iverach EPub