The Thursday Surprise: A Story about Kids and Autism Ryan R Ennis

"The Thursday Surprise is an excellent story to use with neurotypical children who will have a classmate with autism or for students who will be participating in a peer-to-peer program. This story illustrates how children with autism are individuals and that multiple approaches need to be used in schools. It also shows the joy when a child on the spectrum opens up and lets someone into his or her world." ?Sue Ladach Autism Spectrum Disorder Teacher
